HEALTH AND COMFORT.—We do not remember of any man having in such short time and in a strange place obtained such a popularity, and met with such success as has been bestowed on Dr. Schlosser since he came to this city. His consulting rooms have been constantly thronged with Ladies and Gentlemen, and it is not to be wondered at, as he has given general satisfaction whenever he has been consulted. The diseases of the feet, now unfortunately so little known, and we may say almost entirely disregarded, can be immediately and permanently cured by him. As beauty of carriage is mainly dependent on the judicious preservation of the feet, dancing masters may in vain drill the body if the support of the whole frame (the feet) be in a disordered state.
 Every Lady or Gentleman, therefore, who values health and comfort should not neglect to have the valuable advice of Dr. Schlosser before he leaves the city, who is enabled to remove every disease of the feet, such as Corns, Bunions, &c., without giving the least pain. BALTIMORE, March 18, 1858.
 Gentlemen:—Your note of yesterday's date has been received. For your very flattering notice of my efforts I can scarcely find words to express my thanks. I accept your proffer of a complimentary benefit in the same frank manner that it is made. Being under positive engagement to appear in Boston on Tuesday evening of next week, I would respectfully name to-morrow (Friday) evening as the occasion, the Holiday Street Theatre as the place, and "The Iron Chest" and "Katherine and Petruccio" as the plays, in both of which I shall have the honor of appearing.
 With my heartfelt wishes for your future health and prosperity, allow me to subscribe myself, gentlemen, your highly flattered fellow-townsmen,
 EDWIN BOOTH.
